SHOT TO DEATH.

Negro Woman Killed Below Prosperity On Wednesday Night—No Arrests Yet.

Henrietta Summer, colored, was shot and fatally wounded in the public road just below Mr. G. F. Stockman's residence on Wednesday night. It is stated that three shots were fired. Only one took effect, lodging in the back.

The woman, it is stated, was in the buggy with her sister and a white boy, Ethod Dominick, the son of Mr. H. P. Dominick, of Prosperity. After the shot was fired she was driven about two hundred yards to the house of Pierce Ruff, where she died in about five minutes.

The coroner held an inquest yesterday afternoon.

It was stated yesterday that the three, the white man and the two negro women, were driving along the public road, and that between 8 and 9 o'clock they were below Mr. G. F. Stockman's home, and observed a person in the road, and soon after they passed the fatal shot was fired. The weapon used was a shot gun, and of the three loads which it is stated were fired, one entered the woman's back.

No arrest had yet been made at a late hour yesterday afternoon.

Rev. A. J. Bowers, D. D., will preach a sermon to the Odd Fellows in West End Baptist church on next Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the order and the public generally are cordially invited to be present.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Annual Meeting at the Home of the President, Mrs. L. W. Floyd, An Enjoyable Affair.

That the superstitions attaching to the number 13 have no terrors for the members of the Woman's club, of Newberry, is evidenced by the fact that this club was organized on the 13th of February, just five years ago, and with thirteen charter members. It has been the custom of the club ever since to celebrate its anniversary at the home of the president; and, as the dates have repeated themselves, these occasions have grown to be more and more delightful, the climax thus far being reached in the entertainment at Mrs. L. W. Floyd's on Tuesday evening last.

This ideal home lends itself perfectly to the accommodation of a large number of guests, and its tasteful elegance required no decorations to enhance its beauty. In the drawing room and reception halls there were a few touches of the club's colors—two shades of violet; and in the dining room, cut glass vases of crimson carnations, real lace centerpieces of crimson, and candle shades of the same bright hue, reminded all that it was the eve of good St. Valentine. After the guests had assembled the following very enjoyable programme was carried out:

1. Overture, The Calif of Bagdad, Mesdames S. B. Jones and J. M. Kibler.
2. Tenor Solo.
3. Humorous Reading, The Invalid, Mrs. S. L. Powell.
4. Violin Solo, Italian Romance, Miss Nannie McCaughrin.
5. "Our Club Work from the View Point of a New Member," Mrs. J. E. Norwood.
6. Baritone Solo, Answer, with violin obligato, Mr. S. B. Jones.
7. Violin Solo, Miss Nannie McCaughrin.
8. Instrumental Duet, Mesdames Kibler and Jones.

At the conclusion of this delightful feature crimson hearts were passed to the ladies and white arrows to the men, on each of which was written half of a quotation suggestive of the valentine season, the reading of which furnished much merriment; and, in this way, partners for supper were secured.

An elegant course supper was served—a genuine feast of appetizing dishes—turkey, macaroni, sandwiches, beaten biscuit, chipped oysters, chicken salad, crackers, ice cream, white cake, fruit cake and creme de menthe.

A great deal of merriment was afforded between courses, by having each gentleman write a description of his wife's wedding dress, these being read aloud. Many former brides were surprised to find how far from lasting had been the impression on their husbands' minds of the dress which they had spent so much thought and time in planning.

And thus another milestone has been passed by the Woman's club. That in the five years of its existence tangible results have been effected, none will gainsay; and may this social meeting, coming once during each year's regular club work, serve to bring the members into closer touch with others who are striving to improve their minds, to better the conditions around them and perhaps in a small way, but nevertheless surely, to aid in the uplifting of humanity.

NEWS FROM PROSPERITY.

Saw Mill Burned—The Sayings and Doings of Many People in Newberry's Sister City.

Prosperity, February 15.—Owing to the fact that business calls your correspondent to Columbia on the 14th, we will have to forego the pleasure of attending the silver wedding of our chief. 'Twas ever thus. Fate seems to dash many of the pleasant cups from our lips, just when we had hoped to sip the nectar within.

Well, well, Chips, we do sympathize with you. We had our head cut off once upon a time in this same office. That was about sixteen years ago, and "old man Kay" has had to grow another one since then. We've got the head all right, but it will get awry sometimes, a condition brought about by trying to forget old things and see the new ones. You will get over it by and by. Say, Chips, I would suggest as a remedy that you enter the race for the legislature from Newberry county. This is said to have a settling effect.

Mr. D. M. Bedenbaugh had the misfortune to lose his saw mill by fire last Friday night. The engineer had made a fire a little ways from the engine to warm his feet and went home at night without putting out the fire. The wind blew the fire into the mill and burned the frame work of the mill and ruined his saw. The loss is about $350, with no insurance.

Casualty stepping into the post-office one day last week we heard the question of the ground hog discussed. Several gave their opinions, but Uncle Bob Stoudemayer said he had helped dig one out, "time o' the war," in Virginia and he knew how they looked. Some of our citizens had been to Newberry the day before and their description of ground hog and Uncle Bob's did not tally. Your correspondent don't know which description was correct.

We have several times quoted from others and we have never seen a wave from life's sea that hit the spot any nearer than the following: "If those who whine would whistle, And those who languish laugh: The rose would rout the thistle. The grain outrun the chaff."

But, then, you know the work of destruction is so much easier than construction and there are so many more engaged in the former occupation than in the latter.

Rev. Mr. Pittman, of Greenwood, was in town Saturday and Monday. Mr. Pittman filled his regular appointment at Bethel on Sunday.

Your correspondent is informed that the executive board of missions of the Baptist church will supply the church here and that in all probability Rev. Mr. Mitchell will preach here regularly.

Rev. T. H. McDill will preach at Cannon Creek church on February 18, at 11 a. m., and in the A. R. P. church in Prosperity at 4 p. m.

Mr. J. L. Wise has returned from Kansas City, Missouri, where he had gone to purchase a car load of mules.

We have talked with several business men in reference to the licensing of all business of whatever kind in our town, and they agree that it is a good thing to do. Let the license go on, and it will raise revenue enough for the town to own its own plant for water and electric lighting. If we could once get the electric lights we would not do without them.

Mr. Hart Kohn, of Columbia, spent Sunday and Monday with his parents in town.

Mr. J. A. Blackwelder, of Newberry, was in town on Monday.

Mrs. Anna Barrier, of Monroe, N. C., spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. S. J. Kohn.

Mrs. S. W. Young, of Little Mountain, has also been on a visit to Mrs. Kohn.

Mrs. Kenneth Baker and children of Greenwood, are visiting her father,

Mr. S. C. Barre, and sisters.

Mr. D. E. Ridgell, of Batesburg, was in town this week, the guests of his aunt, Mrs. A. M. Lester.

Miss Jane Cook, who has made her home with Mrs. J. P. Bowers, has decided to return to her home in the country and will be with her sister, Mrs. J. Callie Cook, of the Zion section.

Miss Janie Kinard, of Leesville, after a pleasant stay with friends and relatives in town and surrounding community, will return home Friday.

The new lodge hall having been completed, the fraternal orders have moved in and are now at home over the Livingston Hardware Co. It is occupied by the Knights of Pythias, Masons and Woodmen of the World.

Miss Julia Mathis returned to her home on Wednesday much pleased with our pleasant little city.

Mr. Wilbur Mathis is out from the effects of his wounds, and the hands of John Spearman on the 3rd.

Rev. W. L. Seabrook was in town on business on Monday.

Mr. Will Adams, of Saluda county, was in town a couple days this week.

Miss Alice's Wedding.

Four hundred dollars is the price paid for an invitation to the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding, to a speculative guest, who, it appears, "needed the money," says a Washington dispatch to the News and Courier under date of Tuesday.

Word was received at the White House from an unquestionable source that an invitation to the wedding was sold to a person more anxious to witness the ceremony than the original holder of the precious card. Efforts are being made to locate the purchaser of the ticket, with a view to canceling the invitation. The limited list of invitations has been carefully scrutinized, and White House officials realize that they have a difficult task before them to spot the holder of the $400 card and turn it down when it is presented. There are further reports of active speculation in the much prized invitations but the case above cited came to the White House so direct and so well supported as to justify investigation. The actual number of invitations is not as large by several hundred as has been generally stated unofficially. It was intended originally to limit the number to one thousand. Upon a close survey of the standing space in the East room it will not permit more than seven hundred people to comfortably test its capacity.

There will be no seats for any one, not even for Bishop Satterlee, who is to perform the ceremony entirely unassisted. The choir boys were cut out to make room for more important guests. The platform, upon which the bridal party will stand, and the ribboned aisle framed from the grand corridor to the altar, also take up considerable space. The decorations will be artistic, but not as prolific as originally contemplated. There will be no wedding bell, which was the floral feature of Nellie Grant's wedding. It was the examination of the records of the Nellie Grant wedding, which necessitated the reduction in the number of invitations. It turns out that there were not two hundred witnesses to the Nellie Grant marriage. The actual number is stated at 185 persons.

The grounds will be closed on Saturday and only persons who hold the treasured pasteboards will be allowed to enter the enclosure. Holders of tickets will enter the White House under similar conditions that prevailed at official receptions and other social functions. Members of the immediate families will enter the mansion by the front door or north front. Members of the cabinet and a few select officials will have the privilege of coming in at the southern entrance, as usual, while other invited guests will come in by the east entrance through the sub-basement corridor. There will be no reservation of desirable positions in the east room except for the members of the two families. The ceremonies so far as receiving the guests, will be in charge of Colonel Bromwell and the naval and the military aides to the president.
